DIRECTOR'S WORDS

Dear Team, Hope you're all doing well! As we move through May, I'm excited to share a few key updates that highlight the momentum we're building together. First, I'm proud to announce a major milestone on the AuctionX front—our first auction house has officially launched on the platform! We've kicked off pre-registrations for participants, using a network marketing approach, and the early response has been incredibly motivating. It's inspiring to see interest and excitement building around what we've created together. In parallel, Pratik has been working diligently on the fundraising side, engaging with VCs and angel investors to secure pre-seed funding for AuctionX.

The conversations so far have been positive, and we're optimistic about what's to come. This financial backing will play a key role in supporting the next phase of the platform's journey. These developments reflect the spirit of innovation and persistence that defines GlobalVoxwe're building a resilient, passionate, and people-first culture. Let's keep the momentum going and make this May month a meaningful chapter in our journey.

DIRECTOR’S WORDS

These developments reflect the spirit of innovation and persistence that defines GlobalVox. Whether it's launching platforms or raising capital, every effort is a step forward—and I’m grateful to each of you who’s contributing to that progress. While we chase big goals, I also want to gently remind everyone to take care of yourselves. The pace can be demanding, and it's easy to overlook the importance of rest and balance.

But as the saying goes, “Almost everything will work again if you unplug it for a few minutes—including you.” So please, take breaks, step away when you need to, and support each other in finding that balance. Together, we’re not just building solutions—we’re building a resilient, passionate, and people-first culture. Let’s keep the momentum going and make this May month a meaningful chapter in our journey.

LEO’S ROAR BY DEAN

Greetings! Dean here. Leo and Leila are still in Miami, Florida with Shreya, so I volunteered to author this month’s blog. My subject is reinventing yourself. I am a firm believer that you should reinvent yourself every 20 years or so. And given that many people are living to be 100, that means you should plan on up to five career changes.

The Seven-Year Cycle

The Dalai Lama suggests individuals transform into new versions of themselves every seven years … which coincides with scientific theory that the body cells replace themselves every seven years. So, my 20-year theory is conservative.

The 20-Year Cycle

Like many of my peers, I graduated from university the summer I turned 22. So, my first 20 years were dedicated to education. In my second 20 years I focused on my career as a military officer. I enjoyed myself so much I extended this phase for another 10 years. Then I reinvented myself as a civilian executive and spent 20 years in industry … working with and running several different engineering and technology companies and chasing business development projects around the world.

LEO’S ROAR BY DEAN

Along the way I formed my own consulting company, supported my community, and taught civil engineering at the university level. It’s time now to decide what I want to be when I grow up. And that doesn’t mean retiring and doing nothing. Life is about being active, continually learning and improving, and making a difference.

The Next 20 Years

So, what’s next? More family time, more traveling (for work and play), and more time with my consulting clients … yes, including GlobalVox. I’m eager to see GlobalVox reach its next level. That’s something we can all be a part of.

GlobalVox

My challenge to all of you is to look to the future. Most of you are just starting your first career out of university. Invest in your career opportunities. Continue to learn and improve yourself (certifications!). stay healthy (so you can enjoy multiple carers), don’t neglect your family and friends … and start planning for what’s next. It’s never too early to dream about the future.

That’s all for now, See you next month. In the meantime, remember Kunalsinh’s guidance, “Be Safe, Work Hard, Eat Well, Sleep Tight.” I will!

Bye for now … Dean

HONORING THE HEART OF EVERY HOME – MOTHER'S DAY

Honoring the Heart of Every Home – Mother's Day

Mother’s Day is a time to celebrate the women who nurture, guide, and inspire us every day. It is a heartfelt tribute to the strength, sacrifices, and unconditional love that mothers bring into our lives.

On this special day, we pause to express our deepest gratitude and appreciation for their unwavering support, resilience, and compassion. Whether they are mothers by birth, choice, or role, their influence shapes the fabric of families and communities alike.

Let us take this opportunity to honor their journey, recognize their tireless efforts, and cherish the moments that make motherhood so extraordinary.

Wishing all mothers a beautiful, restful, and joy-filled Mother's Day.

HONORING THE BRAVE – MEMORIAL DAY

On Memorial Day, we solemnly honor the courageous men and women of the United States Armed Forces who made the ultimate sacrifice in service to our nation. This day stands as a powerful reminder of the cost of freedom and the enduring legacy of valor and patriotism.

As we gather with family and friends, let us take a moment to reflect on the lives lost in defense of liberty and the profound impact of their service. Their sacrifice is etched into the history of our country and the hearts of all who cherish peace and democracy.

We extend our deepest gratitude to the fallen, their families, and all who continue to serve. May their bravery never be forgotten, and may we strive to uphold the values for which they gave everything.

In remembrance, in gratitude, and in unity—this Memorial Day, we remember.
